

Jamboree Collecting

The ISCA Getting Started Collecting Series

The culmination of many Scouts' experience is participation in a National Jamboree with friends from their hometown. In addition to going on tour and visiting many historical locations, Scouts get to meet other Scouts from across the country and world. It is natural to collect the Jamboree items that are part of the experience including a pocket patch, back patch, neckerchief, and so on. As you participate in the Jamboree, you will have opportunities to earn a number of awards and patches, and you will be able to trade for all kinds of Scouting memorabilia.

The term “jamboree” was first applied by Lord Baden-Powell, the founder of Scouting, to the exhibition of Scouts from around the world in London in August of 1920. When he was told that the definition of jamboree meant “a noisy celebration,” he thought the expression was perfect for the occasion. Thus, the first jamboree was in fact a World Jamboree (Jamboree Mondial in French), so the area of collecting Jamboree memorabilia is roughly divided into World Jamborees and National Jamborees.

Most Jamboree collectors will focus on collecting one or two representative badges from each Jamboree, or will try to collect everything from just one Jamboree. It is not uncommon to see Scouters concentrate their efforts on the Jamboree they attended as a youth. Everything that is available for collecting in the broader world of Scouting memorabilia is available to collect within the Jamboree arena. Typical collections will include the Jamboree pocket patch, back patch, and neckerchief. Other collectibles include the Jamboree neckerchief slide, leather patch, pin, hat, decal, mug, newspapers, postcards, towel, necklace, daypack, duffel bag, baggage tags, parking permits, show passes, staff items, contingent items, you-name-it.

World Jamborees

World Jamborees are a special challenge to collect because the pocket patches or other items have been restricted to one per participant in the past. The 1937 pocket patch was issued one per participant and had a colored bar incorporated into the patch design that designated the person's assigned subcamp. Likewise in 1947 the official patch included the French name of the subcamp. The neckerchiefs in 1975 indicated the subcamp and were assigned one per participant.

World Jamborees

| | | | |
|------|---|------|--|
| 1920 | Olympia, London, England | 1967 | Idaho, United States |
| 1920 | Copenhagen, Denmark | 1971 | Asagiri Heights, Japan |
| 1929 | Arrowe Park, Birkenhead, England | 1975 | Lillehammer, Norway |
| 1933 | Gödöllő, Hungary | 1979 | (cancelled - planned for Tehran, Iran) |
| 1937 | Vogelenzang, the Netherlands | 1983 | Kanaskis Country, Canada |
| 1947 | Moisson, France | 1987 | Cataract Park, Australia |
| 1951 | Bad Ischl, Austria | 1991 | Soraksan National Park, South Korea |
| 1955 | Niagara, Canada | 1995 | Flevoland, the Netherlands |
| 1957 | Sutton Coldfield, Warwickshire, England | 1999 | Picarquin, Chile |
| 1959 | Laguna, Philippines | 2003 | Sattahip, Thailand |
| 1963 | Marathon, Greece | 2007 | Hylands Park, Chelmsford, England |

In addition to the World Jamboree badges and other artifacts, one can collect the contingent memorabilia. The BSA contingent issues a special pocket patch, backpatch, neckerchief and other assorted items, as do many other country contingents. A challenging collection would be to acquire the contingent badge from every country that was represented at the World Jamboree. Note that the 1979 World Jamboree planned for Tehran, Iran was cancelled due to political unrest in the host country. Although no official badge exists for the Jamboree, many contingents had already produced their country contingent patches, including the United States. These are an unusual and interesting piece of World Jamboree history.

National Jamborees

The most commonly collected National Jamboree patches in the United States are appropriately those of the BSA National Jamborees. Other countries hold their own national or area jamborees, of course, and the memorabilia from those countries are entire collecting areas in their own right. Examples include the Canadian Jamboree, Asia/Pacific Jamboree, FinnJamb, Scottish Jamborette, EuroJam, etc.

As with World Jamborees, the primary collectibles from BSA National Jamborees are the pocket patch, backpatch, and neckerchief, but many, many other items are available. One popular item to collect at the National Jamboree is the Jamboree Shoulder Patch (JSP), special shoulder patches made exclusively for the local council contingent. Virtually every troop at the Jamboree will issue a JSP.

BSA National Jamborees

| | | | |
|------|--|------|------------------------|
| 1935 | Washington, DC (cancelled) | 1977 | Moraine State Park, PA |
| 1937 | Washington, DC | 1981 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1950 | Valley Forge, PA | 1985 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1953 | Irvine Ranch, CA | 1989 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1957 | Valley Forge, PA | 1993 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1960 | Colorado Springs, CO | 1997 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1964 | Valley Forge, PA | 2001 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1969 | Farragut State Park, ID | 2005 | Fort A. P. Hill, VA |
| 1973 | Farragut St Park, ID/Moraine St Park, PA | | |

JOTA/JOTI

A final area of Jamboree collecting that doesn't fit neatly into the categories above is the Jamboree on the Air (JOTA), an annual event where Boy Scouts and Girl Guides talk to each other over ham radio. The idea for a Jamboree on the Air began with the 1957 World Jamboree where an amateur radio station was set up for the Scouts and public to enjoy. It was so well received that an annual JOTA was inaugurated in 1958. Jamboree on the Internet (JOTI) is a more recent phenomenon, but has occurred each year since 1998 in conjunction with JOTA. Special badges are available for those who participate and these are the main collectible.

-- David Miura

National Jamboree Pocket Patches from 1950 to 1969

National Jamboree Pocket Patches from 1973 to 1993

National Jamboree Pocket Patches from 1997 to 2001
Also pictured are some additional patches from the 2001 jamboree.

1964 National Jamboree Back Patch

Most jamboree back patches look just like the pocket patch, only bigger.
That was not true in 1964, 1997, and 2001.

1997 National Jamboree Back Patch

2001 National Jamboree Back Patch